

10 Black Cats

by Gareth Mann

10 black cats sitting on a fence with glistening golden eyes 10 black cats sitting on a fence watching the evening skies Listening for familiar sounds of broomsticks flying high waiting for their mistresses to come swooping by Before long, their ears perk up and their golden eyes turn green
As they hear the sounds of cackling approach the midnight scene
One by one, each cat jumps on Its familiar perch Ready for a night of mischief and naughty witches mirth
